

Program Outcomes

Program Name: HISTORY

Division: Social Science

Discipline: History

Contact Person: Laura Dull

Outcomes

Enhanced writing skills: Students who take a history course at Delta will be able to synthesize historical narrative and demonstrate their critical thinking skills (defined above) in writing.

Enhanced reading skills: Students who take a history course at Delta will be able to distinguish between primary and secondary sources. They will analyze such sources for bias and compare and contrast their narratives.

Critical Thinking: Students who take a history course at Delta will be able to identify historical problems, analyze their significance, and suggest alternative solutions.

Political literacy: Students who take a history course at Delta will increase their understanding of the historical roots of the Western political system.

Cultural literacy: Students who take a history course at Delta will increase their understanding of the historical roots of Western society.